

2010 Spring/Summer Semester Course Offerings and Spring/Summer Semester Registration

UOIT students are now able to preview spring/summer semester courses on-line. Please open MyCampus (you do not have to login) and on the bottom left under links there is the Preview available courses option. You will only be able to access Spring/Summer courses at this time.

While you may not register at this time, the preview will allow you to plan your registration strategy.

Online registration for spring/summer semester courses commences Wednesday, April 7 at 08:30
(includes 7 week spring session, 7 week summer session and 14 week summer semester)

Please check your account on MyCampus to ensure that you do not have any holds for unpaid tuition. You will not be able to register if there is a hold on your account.

When you do register, please ensure that you verify your schedule when confirming your registration.

Registration will be for spring/summer courses only.

(Registration for returning students for the fall/winter 2010 will start in early July. Further information regarding fall/winter registration will be posted to MyCampus at a later date.)

Should you anticipate graduating at the end of your final year, you should act to verify that you are on target to complete all degree requirements by Spring 2011. Consult with the academic advisor for your Faculty who is best able to identify measures you must take in order to graduate on time. Summer semester courses provide an opportunity for completing outstanding course requirements or for 'catching up'.
